

ONLINE COOPERATION WITH JAPANESE PARTNERS - HSE UNIVERSITY EXPERIENCE

31 cooperation agreements with 17 Japanese universities (incl. 12 agreements on student exchange)

The project “Russian-Japanese Student International Collaborative Research Program 2020-2021 Northeast Asia since 2012 - Political and Economic Analysis” – <https://we.hse.ru/en/irs/jpro>

HSE University School of International Regional Studies & Akita International University Institute for Asian Studies and Regional Collaboration

8 HSE University students and 8 AIU students join their efforts during 6 months in 2020-2021 a.y.:

- a course of lectures and workshops devoted to 4 topics (International Conflicts in Extension of Domestic Politics; Economic Relations as Uniting and Disuniting Factors; Emergence of the New Cold War Structure and Regionalism in and around Northeast Asia)
- presentation of the students’ results outcomes - at an International online conference in February 2021.

HSE University: Academic supervisor Vera Vishnyakova, Head of the School of International Regional Studies; Project supervisor: Elmira Imamkulieva, Student project activities coordinator, School of International Regional Studies

Project supervisor AIU: Tetsuya Toyoda, Director of the Institute for Asian Studies and Regional Cooperation, Akita International University

Joint students’ project: HSE university Asian Studies Program

Academic Supervisor Uliana Strizhak

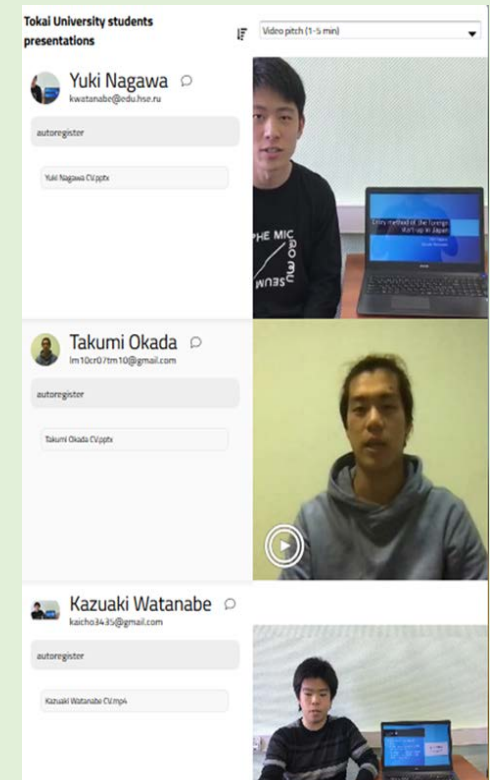

<https://www.hse.ru/en/ba/oriental/>

and Tokai University

on SELECTIO platform which allows students to submit their presentation pitch on a research subject – Russian and Japanese bio technological companies.

Also Japanese students and experts could make scoring and add their comments on Russian students’ presentations.

Automated video recording and online assessment platform

